Welcome to the August issue the Radio HF Newsletter. I'm hoping that things are well in your part of the world.

The summer is quickly passing by. As many of you know, my wife and I are avid birdwatchers. We tend to see the seasons changing sometimes faster than most people. Believe it or not, by the last week of July, we were already starting to see some signs of fall migration. Some species of birds, having completed raising their young in the northern parts of Canada, have begun their trip back south where they will spend the winter months! However, for us, we still have many weeks left of great weather before the cold temperatures arrive…hopefully.

I have some great news to report about my business, Radio HF. Finally, after a long, long period of procrastination, I have just completed a full overhaul and update of the Radio HF webpage. It's been one of those things on my lengthy "to-do" list. So, finally with a few days of stifling heat and humidity here in Montreal, I sat myself down, refreshed my memory on how to use the FTP software, and got the job done. So, I invite all of you to take a few minutes and visit the page. Included are updated links to all the companies whose products can be obtained through Radio HF. I have also completed a full, detailed listing of all publications that are available as well. Please check out the page at www.radiohf.ca http://www.radiohf.ca/

Our Monthly Special Zone for August includes web pages on a number of United Nations special events days, plus sites on Assistance Dogs, National Aviation Week, Hiroshima Day and Vinyl Record Day.

This month's virtual voyage around the world, in the "Where in the World Zone", takes us to Cambodia. Officially known as the Kingdom of Cambodia and once known as the Khmer Empire, Cambodia is a country located in the southern portion of the Indochina Peninsula in Southeast Asia. Its total landmass is 181,035 square kilometres (69,898 sq mi), bordered by Thailand to the northwest, Laos to the northeast, Vietnam to the east, and the Gulf of Thailand to the southwest.

Let's get down to business with this month's collection of web sites.

RADIO HF
THE COMPLETELY NEW, UPDATED WEBPAGE

Radio HF, Canada's specialist in shortwave radio, AM/FM, scanners, amateur radio, FRS/GMRS, CB radio, antennas, accessories and publications since 1995, now has a completely updated webpage as of August 1st. I invite everyone to browse through it. Equipment and accessories are divided by categories. Each category offers a list of the various companies whose equipment is available through Radio HF. Live links to each company are available to browse the complete lines of products. Under the "Publications" tab, you'll find an extensive, detailed list of the largest selection of radio and communications related publications available in Canada.

Due to the constant changes in pricing on products, prices are not included on the webpage, with the exception of the publications. If you are interested in any products, simply e-mail or telephone Radio HF to obtain a price quotation and information on availability.

Radio HF is an on-line retailer. There is no storefront here in the Montreal region. However arrangements can be made for clients in the Montreal region to pick up their merchandise locally. Radio HF will ship across Canada and worldwide. Payments for orders can be made by cheque or money order, by Mastercard or Visa, or most conveniently using PayPal.

SOME RADIO DETAIL FOR THE INTERMINABLY CURIOUS...

This site is a somewhat different window on radio history and related technical information. Here we focus on the formation and development of pioneer radio stations and early networks. The views through this window include scans from early radio trade and hobbyist publications and individual station stories, photos and audio clips. Another section under construction reviews the history of recorded audio. And we take a look at a (dying?) hobby: "Medium-Wave DX-ing."
New to the site are recordings of various talks presented at the recent National Radio Club/International Radio Club of America 2015 convention.
Fans of radio, be prepared, you're going to spend a lot of time on this site.

RADIO H.F. BOOK REVIEW ZONE

Oscilloscopes for Radio Amateurs
By Paul Danzer N1II

ISBN: 978-1-62595-023-9
$19.95 US or $25.95 Canadian

At this years’ Dayton Hamvention, I was part of the ARRL Volunteer Staff. Given my background as an author and book reviewer, I was assigned to the table where The League was selling their many books and publications. Paul N1II’s new book had just come out and, I must admit, it sold out in a few hours. We ended up issue rain checks for the Convention Price and Free Shipping. I didn’t even get to the see the book until my review copy came in time for this issue of The Messenger.
Anybody who has done their own troubleshooting, repair, construction or design will tell you that an “O-Scope” is the most useful and informative piece of test equipment you can have. Until recently, high quality scopes were very expensive and the best most hams could hope for was to score a reasonably price used or surplus unit at a Flea Market. Newer technology, including the ability to make use of a Personal Computer as a software based Oscilloscope have put this once expensive piece of gear into the budget of any ham. Paul N1II has written a complete study of the Oscilloscope, its accessories and the proper way to make the best use of it in your ham shack or on your workbench. Armed with this book, anyone with interest in understanding their equipment better will have little trouble coming up with useful information that will improve and advance their amateur radio practice. This is easily one of the most valuable (and dare I say reasonably priced) books that the ARRL has ever released. Most highly recommended!!!

Available in the US from the American Radio Relay League and in Canada from Radio HF
